

Grandview Mountain Cottages

Grandview Mountain Cottages are luxury vacation rentals on 145 luscious acres high on the Cumberland Plateau. “Papa Phil” bought the farm back in 1972. His daughter, Ilaeka came back from Europe several years ago to care for her terminally ill mother. After her passing, Papa Phil and Ilaeka decided to create an exquisite cottage rental program sharing their love of the land, love of people and love of service. They offer many of the features of a bed and breakfast. The cottages are lovely with European furniture, draperies, and that special touch. The Pinecone Cottage is nestled in the woods overlooking the most magnificent mountain vistas that outline the Great Smoky Mountains. Pinecone has a beautiful deck with a hot tub. During our visit, it kept the Burckhard family cozy while we gazed at the millions of stars as the full moon lit the deck. The luscious luxury robes were so comfortable and warm after getting out of the hot tub and the shower. The master bedroom had a beautiful white comforter atop the heavenly beds which were accentuated by a black settee and pillows. In addition a beautiful antique armoire adorned the room. The bathroom was modern with ceramic tile and a full size Jacuzzi. The second bedroom was equally elegant and was located adjacent to another full size bathroom with a beautiful sage green ceramic tile shower with silver accents. The living room offered a nice sitting area complete with a flat screen TV and satellite. The best area for the children was the game room in the barn. This offered a ping pong table, darts, and other games. The Burckhard boys were in heaven. “Annie’s favorite” was the care and attention shown by the welcome basket with fresh baked dark chocolate chunk cookies, fresh locally grown Winesap apples, Swiss dark chocolate and some organic popping corn with a sweet welcome note tucked in the basket. If you would like to cook while you are at these cabins, don’t bring anything but the food. These are the most equipped cabins I’ve ever see. Ilaeka even offers you the first pot or two of coffee with an organic coffee sampler on the counter. The cabins are eco-friendly and all cabins are spotless - cleaned with eco-friendly products. Whether you are coming for a long weekend or week, each cabin is equipped with a washer and dryer for your convenience. The Honeysuckle Cabin is equally beautiful with a huge deck, hot tub overlooking the pasture and mountain ranges, and decorated with a rich European flair. Ilaeka and Papa Phil love to cook. They serve their guests with an optional farm menu (open Thursday through Sunday). Using organically grown vegetables, produce, and honey, Papa Phil can cook up delicious picnics, breakfasts, and/or home made pizzas that can be delivered to your cottage door. When Papa Phil knocked on our door the first night with our home baked pizza, the Burckhard boys were so excited and so was “Mamma Annie”. The pizza was delicious with all the flavors of the garden popping out — fresh homemade dough that rises for three hours, homemade tomato sauce infused with their garden herbs, peppers, caramelized onions, mushrooms and of course mozzarella cheese — Mmmmm. The morning delivery of a picnic basket of biscuits and farm made peach and strawberry jam was scrumptious served with Emma’s fresh churned sweet butter. The fresh squeezed orange juice and natural apple cider in the basket were also delightful. Something so simple, but so good! Grant is still talking about Papa Phil’s jam. When making his PB&J sandwich yesterday for his picnic lunch, he insisted on Papa Phil’s strawberry jam. Ilaeka and Papa Phil love to talk about their organic gardening and offer classes in the summer. If you are visiting and would like to help in the garden, they will talk to you while you are pulling weeds or helping with the harvest — hands on experience. They also love to use as much of the local farm produce, meats, and cheeses as possible. They have a cute country “porch store” that offers jams, jellies, fresh honey made on their farm and fresh baked breads. The Grandview Mountain Cottages offer more than an overnight stay. They offer an experience and memories that will be created to last a lifetime. The cottages sit on some of the prettiest pastures overlooking gorgeous mountain vistas. Visitors are treated to the opportunity of having the ability to run through fields, go fishing at the farms pond or take hikes. You can also enjoy the many state parks and waterfalls that are within a one hour drive. Popular Fall Creek Falls is less than an hour away and Cumberland Mountain State Park is also nearby. If you would like to go shopping, in nearby Crossville, you will find some lovely antique, home furnishing, and gift stores in their historic downtown district. Grandview Mountain Cottages offers a five star hotel experience in your own cottage tucked away on the Cumberland Plateau. Come experience country living. Slow down, relax and let the outdoor sounds put you to sleep. Stay a while, a week or a month and recharge your batteries and spend quality time with your family and enjoy the finest on the Plateau.
